

LANGUAGE

A JOURNAL OF THE LINGUISTIC
SOCIETY OF AMERICA

VOLUME 101, NUMBER 3

SEPTEMBER 2025

Negation-licensed commands: The imperative operator outside canonical imperative clauses	Michael Donovan	417
The role of referent predictability in pronoun production: Insights from a Bayesian meta-analysis	Xixian Liao, Thomas Brochhagen, Gemma Boleda, & Laia Mayol	445
Sound change proceeds incrementally within adult lifespans: Real-time evidence from /s/-retraction in Australian English	Mary Stevens	500
The lexical pragmatics of reflexive marking	Fabienne Martin, Florian Schäfer, & Itamar Kastner	524
Language Centennial Celebration:
Endangered languages	Ken Hale, Michael Krauss, Lucille J. Watahomigie, Akira Y. Yamamoto, Colette Craig, LaVerne Masayesva Jeanne, & Nora C. England	572
Documentary linguistics and language revitalization: Commentary on Hale et al. 1992	Leanne Hinton	609
Language Revitalization and Documentation (Online-only):
Digital infrastructure and its impacts on language work: A case study of FieldWorks Language Explorer (FLEX)	Amalia Skilton, Sofia Gottlieb Pierson, Sunkulp Ananthanarayan, & Claire Bower	e136
Perspectives (Online-only):
Bringing signed languages into the study of regular sound change	Danny Law, Justin M. Power, & David Quinto-Pozos	e166
Responses to Law, Power, and Quinto-Pozos (see back cover)		e202
Reviews (see back cover)		618

BOOK REVIEWS IN THIS ISSUE

Gal & Irvine: Signs of difference: Language and ideology in social life	P. Eckert	618
Pavlenko (ed.): Multilingualism and history	J. R. Brown	621

PERSPECTIVES (online-only)

Responses to Law, Power, and Quinto-Pozos target article

Practical considerations for sign language phonetic/phonological transcription: A response to Law, Power, and Quinto-Pozos	Kathleen Currie Hall	e202
Modality differences in temporal organization: What do they mean for phonology? Response to Law, Power, and Quinto-Pozos	Jeff Mielke	e220
Signed languages require spatial relations: Response to Law, Power, and Quinto-Pozos	William J. Idsardi	e226
Irregularity and sound change in signed and spoken languages: Response to Law, Power, and Quinto-Pozos	Laura Horton & Joseph Salmons	e238
Signed languages and language change: Response to Law, Power, and Quinto-Pozos	Claire Bowerin	e250
What kind of phonological change DO we see in sign languages? Response to Law, Power, and Quinto-Pozos	Harry van der Hulst	e261
The search for regular change in sign languages: Response to Law, Power, and Quinto-Pozos	Tory Sampson	e274
Exigencies of emerging phonological processes in sign languages: Response to Law, Power, and Quinto-Pozos	Wendy Sandler	e289
Regular change and signed languages: A response to the commentaries	Danny Law, Justin M. Power, & David Quinto-Pozos	e295