

International Journal of Political Economy

Volume 53 Number 1 March 2024

CONTENTS

Special Issue: Strongly Sustainable Development Trajectories: The Road to Social, Environmental, and Macroeconomic Stability

Guest Editors: Dr. Sakir Devrim Yilmaz and Dr. Antoine Godin

Introduction

- 1 Strongly Sustainable Development Trajectories: The Road to Social, Environmental, and Macroeconomic Stability – Introduction
Sakir Devrim Yilmaz and Antoine Godin

Research Articles

- 4 Climate Impacts and Institutionalization in Viet Nam
Thi Thu Ha Nguyen and Étienne Espagne
- 21 The Economic and Environmental Effects of a Green Employer of Last Resort: A Sectoral Multiplier Analysis for the United States
Nikolaos Rodousakis, Giuliano Toshio Yajima, and George Soklis
- 43 Low-Carbon Transition and Macroeconomic Vulnerabilities: A Multidimensional Approach in Tracing Vulnerabilities and Its Application in the Case of Colombia
Alvaro Moreno, Diego Guevara, Jhan Andrade, Christos Pierros, Antoine Godin, Sakir Devrim Yilmaz, and Sebastian Valdecantos
- 67 How Can Accounting Reformulate the Debate on Natural Capital and Help Implement Its Ecological Approach?
Alexandre Rambaud
- 96 Beyond Technology and Toward Sustainable Trajectories for Mining Territories: A Challenge for the Present
Marie Forget and Magali Rossi