

NOTES ON CONTRIBUTORS

AYA ALTOM is an urbanist from Sudan interested in community resilience against climate change, recently earning a Master's in integrated urbanism and sustainable design.

MALIN ARVIDSSON is an associate professor in child studies at the Department of Thematic Studies at Linköping University, Sweden, working on the 'Truth Commissions in the Nordic Countries' (TRIINC) project funded by the Independent Research Fund Denmark.

SOFIA BACH was the programme technician for German-Canadian studies at the University of Winnipeg until October 2023. Her recent research focusses on German-Canadian women's experience in the twentieth century.

ERIN CORY is Senior Lecturer at Malmö University, where she co-directs the Master's programme in Media and Communication Studies. Her work sits at the intersections of migration, sound and arts-based activist research.

VITTORIO FELCI worked at Malmö University for several years and is now a lecturer at Wenzhou-Kean University in Wenzhou, China. His research deals with the international history of Cold War Iran and the environmental oral history of Sudan.

ALEXANDER FREUND is a professor of history at the University of Winnipeg in Canada, where he is the chair in German-Canadian studies and founding director of the University of Winnipeg Oral History Centre. His research focusses on oral history and migration history.

MICHAEL FRISCH, author of A Shared Authority (1990) and Portraits in Steel (1993), was Professor of American Studies at the University at Buffalo, SUNY, USA and President of the (US) American Studies and Oral History Associations. Current oral and public history practice is through Randforce Associates, his consulting office.

HENRY 'HANK' GREENSPAN is an emeritus psychologist, oral historian and playwright at the University of Michigan. He has been interviewing, writing about and teaching about survivors of the Holocaust and other genocides since the 1970s.

ANDERS HØG HANSEN is associate professor at Malmö University and has researched popular memory, histories from below and citizen engagement through art and alternative education in Israel-Palestine, Sweden, Tanzania, Mozambique and South Africa.

JESPER JOHANSSON is an associate professor and senior lecturer in social work at Linnaeus University, Sweden. His research covers social work, migration, oral history, and social and labour market policies and practices.

ANNIKA OLSSON is docent/associate professor in Comparative Literature, Dean of the Faculty of Culture and Society, Malmö University, and co-founder of Oral History in Sweden. Her research focuses on the relationship between representations and democratic societies.

MALIN THOR TUREBY is a professor of history at Malmö University, co-founder of Oral History in Sweden, and Joint Chair of the Oral History and Life Stories Network at the European Social Science History Conference (ESSHC). She is the editor of the first two books in Swedish that review and define the field of oral history.

IBEN VYFF is head of research and cultural heritage at the Museums of Elsinore and a visiting researcher at Roskilde University in Denmark, where she researches memory and uses of pasts. She is project leader of the 'Voices from the Shipyard' oral history project.

CONTENTS

EDITORIAL INTRODUCTION

Revisiting shared authority

Malin Thor Tureby and Annika Olsson .....2

NEWS

Current British Work/International Work .....7

Obituaries: Ronald Blythe and Ron Grele .....51

ARTICLES

Being a good scholar or a good person? Shared/sharing authority and the practice of taking scholarship for granted

Annika Olsson .....57

Sounding history: the work of podcasting as shareable authority

Erin Cory .....69

Reflecting upon authority in the creation of the 'We are proud of them' story map

Vittorio Felci, Aya Altom and Anders Høg Hansen .....81

Listening for moments of shared authority in archived interviews

Malin Thor Tureby and Jesper Johansson .....96

'Sharing authority' as 'learning together'

Henry 'Hank' Greenspan in conversation with Malin Thor Tureby 109

PUBLIC HISTORY

Shared authority in a public history museum

Iben Vyff .....117

REVIEW ESSAY

Sharing authority when confronting past injustices: the use of oral testimony in redress processes

Malin Arvidsson .....128

AFTERWORD

Shared authority and the digital turn

Michael Frisch .....136

LEARNING

'What They Can Teach Us': curating archived oral histories for secondary and post-secondary education

Sofia Bach and Alexander Freund .....139

REGIONAL NETWORK and SPECIAL INTEREST GROUPS

.....152